

DAY 1: Afternoon

After settling in, spend your first afternoon exploring the beauty of Point Reyes, shaped by the season you're visiting.

Winter: Head out to Dillion Beach (14mi) and witness the raw power of the Pacific, where large winter waves crash against the rugged shoreline. After, stop in the historic village of Tomales for a cozy lunch. One of our favorite spots is ______.

Spring: Take a peaceful walk along Limantour Beach (17mi). The shoreline is dotted with snowy plovers this time of year, and the air feels fresh with the promise of new blooms. Pick up a picnic lunch from Inverness Park Market (10mi) to enjoy along the way.

DAY 1: Afternoon

Summer: Drive up Inverness Ridge (19mi) to the summit of Mount Vision. From the top, the sweeping views of Point Reyes National Seashore stretch all the way to the horizon. Wrap up with lunch at Station House Cafe (8.3mi), a relaxing spot in the heart of Point Reyes Station.

Fall: Stroll along the Earthquake Trail (11mi), where the shifting landscape tells the story of the San Andreas Fault. Afterward, return to the property and enjoy lunch out on the deck at Mable's (0.4mi), surrounded by golden light and quiet forest.

DAY 1: Evening

After a long day of exploring, there's nothing better than settling in at the lodge for a cozy evening. On Friday nights, unwind with Family Movie Night in the lodge's TV room. The start time shifts with the seasons, 6 PM in winter, 7 PM in spring, and 8 PM in summer and fall. Grab a warm blanket, fill a bowl with popcorn, and enjoy a relaxed night in.

If your visit happens to fall on the right weekend, you might also have the chance to join a State Park-led hike at 3 PM, guided by a local ranger who brings the area's natural and cultural history to life.

And in spring or fall, keep an eye out for a Winemaker Dinner at Mable's, where local wines are thoughtfully paired with a seasonal, regionally inspired menu in an intimate setting.

DAY 2: Morning

Start the morning slowly with a guided yoga session at 9:30 AM (Saturdays), held outdoors when the weather allows. Surrounded by trees and birdsong, it's the perfect way to ease into the day.

Friday through Sunday, follow yoga with brunch at Mable's (0.4), where a seasonal menu and local ingredients come together for a relaxed and satisfying meal in a beautiful setting.

DAY 2: Afternoon

After brunch, head out for a seasonal nature experience.

Winter: Visit Drakes Beach (24mi) to see elephant seals during their pupping season. Then take a short drive to the Point Reyes Lighthouse, where gray whales can sometimes be spotted migrating just offshore.

Spring: Head over to the Chimney Rock Trail Head (28mi) and take a 1.75 miles round trip hike out to Chimney Rock, where wildflowers cover the coastal cliffs. Stop by Drakes Estero (18mi) on your way back, a quiet spot where harbor seals often gather.

DAY 2: Afternoon

Summer: Join a kaykak tour of Tomales Bay (14mi). Paddle along the shoreline, explore hidden coves, and if you're lucky enough to be there on a new moon, watch the water come alive with bioluminescence.

Fall: Visit Bolinas Lagoon (22mi) for birdwatching. Thousands of migratory birds stop here during their fall journey south, making it a great spot for casual or seasoned birders alike.

DAY 2: Evening

After your outing, head back to the lodge for a little fun and relaxation. Play a few rounds of cornhole or bocce ball in the courtyard and enjoy the open-air space before dinner.

That evening, make your way to Nick's Cove (5.6mi) for a waterfront dinner. With its cozy atmosphere and fresh seafood, it's a lovely way to end the day.

When you return, wind down by the fire pit at the lodge. Grab a blanket, listen to the quiet of the forest, and soak in your final moments at Point Reyes.
